Pythian Sisters in Action

Members Visit Lodges—Rehearsal—Entertainment, Etc.

Mrs. Florence Faneuf and Mrs. Mabelle Bell of Norway, Mrs. Grace Starbird, South Paris; Mrs. Lila Haskell of Auburn, and Mrs. Mary Davis made up a party who attended the Pythian Jubilee at Bath.

The Temple has been invited to Harmony Temple, Auburn, Monday evening, May 4, as guests at a reception to Mrs. Lila Haskell. Mrs. Esther Tower Anderson will sing with Mrs. Stella Burnham accompanist.

A full rehearsal for the officers and degree staff is called for Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. This is in preparation for degree work at Bryant's Pond, Wednesday evening, May 6.

Two groups from this section attended guest night in Queen Temple at Auburn, Tuesday night. In Mrs. Florence Faneuf's car were Mrs. Grace Starbird, Mrs. Nellie Goodwin, Mrs. Daisy Foss and Mrs. Lila Haskell, both of Auburn. Mrs. Mabelle Bell carried in her car Mrs. Addie Lovejoy, Mrs. Ada Billings, Mrs. Eva Anderson and Mrs. Ella Partridge. Mrs. Faneuf filled the junior station on the degree staff during the work of the evening.

The casts in the dramas "Square Crooks" and "Kick In" were entertained by the Sisters and Knights on Wednesday evening. A banquet was served and was followed by dancing.

Although the contest is over with Mary Bicknell's side the winners, entertainments will continue for a while with Mrs. Ella Partridge chairman of the program committee for the next meeting, Tuesday, May 5th.

The concluding entertainment in the contest attracted a large crowd to the regular meeting. Capt. Avis Huff presented the program with practically every number in costume and in keeping with the Patriot's Day observance. Program follows: The welcome song was sung to the tune of "Yankee Doodle" by three members; "Rubber Neck Chorus" of 32 members had elongated "necks"; "Children's Concert," with each dressed as a "kid" and doing some stunt; Mrs. Bernice Hill sang "Love's Old Sweet Song" in costume of a girl of sweet 16; a "Yankee Doodle" chorus in white dresses with sashes of crepe paper in the lodge colors, each singing an original verse naming some member of the lodge; "Coming Through the Rye," Frank Lovejoy and Evis Cook, dressed as Scotch lad and lassie.

"London Bridge is Falling Down", each one appearing in a child's costume; tableau, Barbara Frietchie, with the flag, pictured by Mrs. Evis Cook, while the first verse of that poem was read; the Gink family, comprising ten members, doing some stunt; tableau, "Afternoon Stories," Mrs. Hattie Rowe and little Jeanette Thompson, posing for the afternoon nap; tableau, "The Suffragette," Mrs. Genie Thompson; tableau, "The Old Time Quartet," Rupert Tracy, Sadie Lapham, Bertha Lovejoy and Frank Barrows, sang "There's a Long, Long Trail" but only their lips moved to piano accompaniment. "The Telephone Girl" was Mrs. Avis Huff as the operator, and other members demonstrating some of the daily happenings over the telephone; tableau, "The Minute Man" in two scenes, presented Frank Lovejoy as the "Minute Man"; "The Spirit of '76" by four members. The drum used was of Revolutionary times, and has been in Mrs. Evis Cook's family nearly a hundred years.

The village choir made up of a large chorus, appeared in a songfest. "Jeanette's Dream" with Mrs. Avis Huff as the mother, and Jeanette Thompson, her small child, had her dreams pictured by fifteen members; "Paul Revere's Ride" was done by Frank Lovejoy, who rode an improvised horse; Mrs. Mamie Twitchell in old time costume, read "An Old Maid's Dream"; Mrs. Gertrude Mattor gave a costume reading of an old man and his rheumatics; three songs in costume, "Seeing Nellie Home" by Rupert Tracy and Mrs. Avis Huff; "Walking My Baby Back Home" by Mrs. Huff and Jeanette Thompson; a patriotic tableau, "Liberty" pictured by Mrs. Geneva Partridge and her patriots, the Revolutionary soldier, the Civil War, Spanish War and World War soldiers were all introduced, the Red Cross nurse, the Salvation Army nurse, the World War surgeon, etc. The closing number was "Auld Lang Syne" with verses composed for the occasion.

N. H. S. Senior Drama

"The Charm School" Ably Presented at the Opera House, Thursday Night

A glimpse behind the scenes at a fashionable boarding school for young ladies created an atmosphere and setting for "The Charm School", the N. H. S. Senior drama at the Opera House, Friday night, April 24.

The action revolved around a group of co-eds kept in the straight and narrow path by the firm hand and stern personality of Miss Hayes, the head of the institution. Males were kept far away until by a twist of fate and law the school property fell to David MacKenzie. This started something when he arrived to take charge. His four roommates back in the city joined the faculty and cupid's darts punctured hearts and moss covered traditions. The story was a wholesome, rollicking portrayal of youthful self expression, bubbling with light comedy and humorous situations. Love and affection in mild doses was skillfully handled and provided a happy climax for the final curtain.

As the first act had a boarding room scene in a New York skyscraper, the male characters were introduced as comrades in misery. They were stranded without jobs or money until the "break" for a female fitting school arrived. This bit of human interest action easily recalled the days of fraternity life and rooming house activities, where the "buddies" at times are friendly enemies and slightly hard boiled.

The large cast had been ably coached by Harold A. Anderson and each character was well done.

Earl Pierce appeared as David MacKenzie, a law student, with a legal mind and a self appointed member of the faculty. He was forever fixing up things but made little headway.

Sam Favor was Austin Bevans, auto salesman, with elevated ideas on education. After inheriting the girls' school he put into force strict rules on business principles, which were a success in theory, but fell flat in practice. Cupid had him a victim in spite of a struggle to retain dignity as business head of the institution.

Charlotte Longley impersonated Miss Hayes, the chief executive for many years and firmly grounded on tradition. She was both loved and feared, but having "a past" she greatly resented the influx of young men in the sacred precincts. Her girls wore uniforms, had straight hair and kept on the mark until things changed as the boys arrived.

Mildred Gallant was the flirtatious Elsie Benedotte, president of the senior class and a wee bit of a stringer. Her impersonal attitude toward young men changed suddenly when David appeared on her social horizon. Love prompts one to do strange things and she fell under the spell, yes, and captured her man.

Francis Hutchins fitted into the picture as Homer Johns, the elderly guardian of Elsie and heavy stock holder in the school. He called the progressive methods fool ideas.

Rita Linnell made a typical old maid secretary, Miss Curtis, patient and submissive she struggled along a prosey way not greatly upset when the male faculty went into power.

Stanley Lord and Dolor LaFrance blazed out as twins, Jim and Tim Simpkins. They came to the surface as roomers in the apartment. Supported by an allowance they toiled not and cared not a rap until the support was suddenly cut off. The twins figured as instructors in the school and were social successes.

Loren Brett worked in the part of Geo. Boyd, accountant out of a job and a member of the upper room crowd. He was desperately in love with Elsie and endeavored to get more solid as instructor in the school. As a jealous suitor he was a success, but lost his prize to David.

Others who appeared as seniors were Arline Saleeby, Vera Frakes, Violet Upton, Mary Hill, Arline Corbett, Alice LaFrance, Edna Gurney and Elizabeth Conary.

Music between the acts was furnished by the high school orchestra in charge of Eleanor A. Wood. The senior girls sold homemade fudge. Garments worn in the play were loaned by Z. L. Merchant.

FROM TEE TO TRAP

One for the book. All the greens opened for play Saturday, April 25th.

The "Best laid schemes of mice and men, etc.," were very much upset by the weather man, Sunday.

Jupiter Pluvius did a good job and although disappointing for those who had planned to play, all realise that the rain did a great deal of good.

Met Ned this morning, who bade me a smiling top of the morning, and that's all I've done, both times around. Top them one after another.

Well, here's a 200 yarder right down the middle. Gosh darn it, the same old flub, let's play a nickel a hole, the financial interest might help my game.

Will players please use dimes to mark balls on the green instead of pennies, is the suggestion of the man who mows the grass.

Pennies are bad for the machine blades, but dimes do not wear many holes in the pockets.

This does not apply to Scotch pros; they are permitted to use matches. Burnt ones.

George says he won't be able to play very early this year as he hasn't had time to find a new size ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Rowe of Woodfords were the guests, Sunday of Mrs. Rowe's father, Thomas Thibodeau, and her sister, Miss Tessa R. Thibodeau.

Mrs. Charlotte Bennett and daughter, Maxine, have moved from Mrs. Lizzie Boynton's house, Beal street, to the rent in the George P. Locke residence on Main street.

Harold Thomas of Albany, N. Y., was in town over the week end and Mrs. Thomas who has been with her mother, Mrs. Winchester, for a few weeks, returned home with him.

Attention is again called to burning grass and rubbish. A state wide law makes it necessary to procure a permit from the selectmen. Many we are told are not doing this, although the service is free.

Souvenir hunters have attacked the Parsons grain and flour mill, so called, at the head of Main Street, at the dam. This and the old saw mill are soon to disappear as time worn sentinals and relic collectors will have a merry time the next few weeks. As the ruins are on the site of the first mill in Rustfield, and much of the material more than a century old, camera workers and local collectors will make the best of the wreckage.

Henry Downes, residence almost anywhere, was in Norway and South Paris, Tuesday, peddling shoestrings and pencils. Henry is a familiar figure at the autumn fairs and picks up considerable change as a porter. He claims to have been lately released from a hospital, therefore in need of assistance. There is but little in the carnival game this veteran has not tried during forty years experience as a traveler and fortune seeker.

Friday and Saturday of this week the Agricultural Contest, sponsored by the University of Maine will be held at Orono. The following pupils have been selected from the agricultural classes to represent Norway high school. The following contests will be held and those participating in them are: Cattle judging contest, Merle Brown and Arthur Cummings; Rafter cutting contest, Liston Brown; Making long splice in rope work, Philip French; Potato judging team, Harry Andrews and Arthur Cummings. Four other boys are going to attend the contest separate from the teams with the idea of looking over the Maine campus. They are Abel Thurston, Loren Brett, Howard Smith and Stanley Lord. The team will leave at 5 o'clock, Friday morning to be at hand for dinner at 12:30. The contest starts at 1:30.

The Senior class in Agriculture gave a demonstration in setting out apple trees at A. L. F. Pike's McIntosh orchard, Turkey Ridge, Wednesday morning. They dug the holes with modern method by using dynamite.

The successful transcribing of shorthand, quickly and accurately into longhand, is always considered the test of a good stenographer or secretary. To motivate classes, the Gregg Writer issues awards to those students who successfully pass the tests they put out monthly. In order to win an award these papers, transcribed from five minute tests, must be 95% accurate, and with the exception of the 100 word test must be transcribed in 45 minutes. The following have passed the tests indicated, during this year:

Olive Michie 60, 80, 100, 120.
Albert Lafrance, 60, 80, 100.
Alice Lafrance, 60, 80 100.
Marian Thomas, 60, 80, 100.
Mildred Gallant, 60, 80, 100.
Cora Gurney 60, 80.
Arline Saleeby, 60.
Ruth Stearns, 60.
Dolor Lafrance, 60.

Harry Lovejoy had settees placed in Witherell Park, Tuesday, where the weary may rest during the summer. The scribe reported them in place two weeks ago and he has been accused of distorted vision.

HELP CLEAR MAIN STREET

Main street needs attention. Cars parked there all day cause congestion at times and are a hindrance to the transient cars coming in for shopping, etc.

If the people working in the stores, offices and factories from Whitman street and the Printing Office to Clark's Drug Store would park their cars on a side street out of the way, it would ease up the situation and leave Main street free for those coming in to trade. The season of tourists is near at hand and it would be of great assistance to all concerned.

Other action will have to be taken if the above suggestion is not complied with— that will be "two hour parking rules". These are not wanted if it can be avoided, and will not be put into force unless driven to it.

Observed Birthday

Former Norway Boy Eighty-Three Years Old

Harry R. Virgin of Boston contributes his mite to "Uncle Silas H. Burnham's 83rd birthday, and sent "Ode to Uncle Silas" for our use.

Quoting part of Mr. Virgin's letter: "Mr. Burnham used to live on what has recently been the Benj. Tucker place at Norway Lake. He is President of the First National Bank in Lincoln, Neb."

"Silas was short stop on the old Pennesseewassee ball club when the silver ball was lost to the Eon Club of Portland. James Hopkins Smith of Portland and New York, a member of the Eons, has that silver ball now."

Following is the poem:

Ode to Uncle Silas

The Psalmist said, "Life's measured span, is three score years and ten."
And David knew his oats and was a canny judge of men.
But he based his figures on the folks around
Lake Galilee,
He'd never heard of those tough old birds from the shores of Pennesseewassee.

When Uncle Silas read these words, he laughed in loud disdain.
Those Hebrew guys are weaklings side the men from Norway, Maine.
I'll betcha a dollar, by Snummy, I will, and maybe I'll make it two!
We can hike King David's ante, by Gosh, and teach them a trick or "few."

For manna and dates, and all such truck, are not vittles to make men thrive.
Give 'em pork and beans like we eat in Maine and you'll see how long they'll live!
"Three score years and ten." Why that's callow youth around where I was "nussed."
Said Uncle Silas as he laughed Ha! Ha! and I rather think he "nussed."
And bless his old heart! he has won his bet
by a full decade and more,
And he's going strong, and may the years be long, 'fore he starts for the Golden Shore.
His step is sprightly, his eyes are clear, and I reckon he's figuring some,
On taking a crack, and we wish him luck,
at the record of Methusalum.

The preachers, who, with glowing words, the joys of Heaven unfold,
Its jasper sea, its pearly gates, its gleaming streets of gold,
Its cherubim and seraphim, and angels fair
and bright,
Where joys celestial ever reign, eternal day,
no night!

Don't listen to their siren songs, be deaf to all their wiles,
Just let old Gabriel bow his horn, we need
you, Uncle Silas,
This world would be a dreary waste, without your face agleo,
So let the old boy blow his horn, your Heaven is here below!

Sunshine and rain, pleasure and pain, of such are the "makings" of Life.
How happy the man, who throughout Life's span has been blessed with such a wife.
How she cheered you on when days were dark and everything went wrong,
How she stood by your side and strengthened your arm, turning Life's discords to song.

And your children, too, thrice bless'd the man,
as the evening shadows fall,
Who can bask in the sunshine of love, like you,
and have at your beck and call,
Children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren, too, and you'll never call in vain!
Who come trooping in, with love in their hearts, ministring to every pain.

And here tonight, with loving hearts, we are gathered to cheer you along,
On the Road of Life, on the long, long, road,
you have trod so bravely and strong,
Another milestone passed! and for the rest of your trip we pray,
That your path wil be smooth, the skies ever clear, God keep you on your way!

W. O. THOMAS.

MISS JACKSON'S BIRTHDAY

Miss Eva Marion Jackson celebrated her 17th birthday, Wednesday, in her apartment at Boston University Dormitory, with her girl friends. Her mother sent a prettily decorated cake with candles and her father an extra check for ice cream. Much merriment followed the finding of the ring, key, thimble, button, safety pin and coin. A special gift box contained a hoop of garnets in a bracelet, an heirloom of her great grandmother's, also a matching pendant made of a cuff link, these from her mother; the neck chain for the pendant from her father.

This was the third birthday away from home. The second was spent when a freshman in St. Petersburg, Florida, high school. The first, when a little Miss of 7, on the City of Rome, on the ocean, returning from her first winter in Florida. The chef found out it was her birthday and after dinner, in the salon, that evening, a colored waiter presented her a huge, decorated cake, 18 inches in diameter, which she cut and served to the 112 passengers on board the boat.

Mrs. Walter C. Smith, Mrs. Harry M. Goodwin and Mrs. Arthur S. Cummings went to Rhode Island, Thursday, called there by the illness of their brother, Roscoe Frost, returning home Monday. Mr. Frost is more comfortable.

A red spot twenty-one inches long, weighing five and one-half pounds, one of the largest trout landed in years at Lake Pennesseewassee was the prize taken by Edward Luck, April 20. He is the son of E. Alton Luck of Norway. So far as reported this was the first big haul since the lake was declared open, April 12. The trout occupied a place of honor in a window at Stone's.

Harvey Allen leaves soon for the Rangeley Lakes where he has two places in view for the summer. Last season he was a guide at The Barker and may return if a caretaker's job at a camp on that lake does not come his way.

Frank H. Beck, who raises gladi and dahlias for pleasure and profit, is building a greenhouse 18x10 feet with roof and part of the sides of glass. He plans to use this for seedlings. Mr. Beck is getting ready for summer business and expects to have in the ground at least 40,000 bulbs, largely gladioli.

John W. Prince had a vacation of ten days from his work as fireman and watchman at the shoe factory. The time was spent with his brothers, T. L. Prince and family, at Dry Mills, and Perley Prince and family, at Gorham. He also visited a nephew, Guy Prince, and wife, at Gray Corner, and was with relatives in Portland.

William J. O'Mara of St. George, N. Y., has been visiting his wife's family, Philip Decoteau, for the past few days. He also visited Mr. and Mrs. Roland Haggett, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Tracy and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Everett. He left Norway Wednesday to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gammon of Auburn. From there he will return to New York.

Fishing Season On

Pennesseewassee Yields Red Spots

Fishing is good in Lake Pennesseewassee, especially during the past ten days when at least sixteen red spots of good size have been taken. For two years trout have kept under cover and very few landed. Apparently the lid is off.

Edward Luck, Jr., young son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Luck, holds the record to date. His red spot was 22 1-2 inches long and weighed 5 1-2 pounds, giving a battle of about twenty minutes in the water and a scrappy time after landing in the boat.

Jack Ariel of Norway Lake has four trout to his credit, the largest weighed 4 1-4 pound. Asa Frost is another lucky fellow, with a pair to his credit.

A list of some of the catches follows:

Edward Luck, Jr.	5½ lbs.
Jack Ariel (4)	4¾ lbs.
Asa Frost (2)	3¼ lbs.
Benjamin Tucker	3¼ lbs.
Clarence Dunham	3½ lbs.
Scott Pottle	1¾ lbs.
U. S. Cutting, N. Y.
Herbert Butler	2½ lbs.
Francis Noble	2 lbs.

Other trout have been taken but not reported. Fishermen call this the most successful trout season in years about the lake. Should bass strike the clip in proportion to the example set by the red spots, Pennesseewassee will provide one of the best fishing grounds in the country.

BIRTHDAY SUPPER

Mrs. P. C. Greenleaf of East Otisfield has been spending several days with relatives in Norway, lately. Her birthday occurred on Wednesday, April 22nd. Mrs. Greenleaf and Mrs. Alton Noyes prepared a bountiful supper for the event and it was eaten with Mrs. Lucy Dow and sons.

Two of Mrs. Greenleaf's sons, Francis of Lewiston and William, of Portland, assisted their mother in lighting the candles on the birthday cake. She received many presents.

Those who called during the evening were P. C. Greenleaf, son Ernest and wife, also Mr. and Mrs. Elwin S. Gammon.

Mrs. Greenleaf went to Portland, Friday night, to spend Saturday and Sunday with William, also other relatives and friends.

ARTHUR R. WALKER

The death of Arthur R. Walker occurred at the home of his sister, on Water Street, April 25, after a period of failing health, following a shock about a year ago.

He was born at St. Patrick, Quebec, March 3, 1869, the son of Thomas W. and Katherine McGuire Walker. Coming to Norway about thirty years ago, he lived with a sister, Katherine Walker, and was well known as a landscape gardener with most of his work being done in and around Norway village. For a number of years he took great pride in a vegetable and flower garden where he lived and developed methods learned on some of the largest estates where he formerly worked.

He leaves ten brothers and sisters, namely, Herbert Walker of Waterford; William and Garfield Walker of Norway; Gustave Walker of New York, Allen Walker of New London, Ct., George Walker of Boston, Miss Katherine Walker of Norway, Mrs. Peter Griffin of Gardiner; Mrs. Scott Sanders of Mechanic Falls, and Mrs. Alma Williams of New York.

Services conducted by Rev. Conard B. Rheiner of the Universalist Church, were held at Spiller's Funeral Home, Tuesday afternoon. A large number of relatives and friends attended. Interment was at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery. The bearers were members of the family.

W. C. T. U.

About thirty members of the Norway Union accepted the invitation from South Paris Union to attend their luncheon at Deering Memorial Church last Tuesday. The ladies served a delicious luncheon. The guest of honor and speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Althea Quinby, State President, who spoke on Education of our young folks, on lines of Temperance.

Several were called upon to make remarks among whom were Rev. Charles L. Kinney, Rev. R. H. Colby, Rev. E. B. Tetley, Rev. C. Groezinger, Supt. of Schools, Mr. Robinson, and George Morton, all honorary members.

Plans were talked over for the County Convention to be held in Bethel, May 12.

Mrs. Harold Bean and Miss Eugenia Hazelton of Bethel were entertained at the Cafe by several members of the Norway Union.

The mothers' committee of the W. C. T. U. will meet at Community Hall, Friday evening, May 1st, at 7:30 p. m. The program will include music and readings, the principal speaker will be Mrs. Chas. L. Kinney of South Paris. All mothers are especially invited and each member is requested to invite a mother.

The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at Community Hall, Wednesday, May 6th, Mrs. Elizabeth Joslin, Mrs. Annie Wiles, Mrs. Florence Stone and Mrs. Bessie Paul, hostesses. There will be an interesting program.

Mrs. Della McAllister of Auburn is the guest of Mrs. Maude Bolster.

W. Maford Mann has the James Smith Shoe Store front brightened with new paint, dark, but attractive.

Leslie McAllister is doing extensive filling and grading on the lot between his house and Ernest B. Jackson's.

Miss Elizabeth Klain's pupils were entertained at the Studio, Friday afternoon and the symphony orchestra was studied.

Steve Klament has moved his family from Danforth Street to the downstairs rent in Mrs. John Woodman's house on Deering Street.

A number of boats and canoes have arrived at the landing, ready for launching when the owners arrive at their cottages by the lake.

Miss Claire Partridge, a nurse at St. Marie's Hospital at Lewiston, was a guest of Mrs. Harold A. Anderson last week.

Charles R. Cronham, director of the Portland Municipal Orchestra, was in town, Sunday, making final arrangements for the concert Thursday night.

The district meeting of the Odd Fellows will be held here, Tuesday, May 5, and the Grand Officers will be present. A banquet will be held at 6:30.

Mrs. Esther Tower Anderson is in Boston this week with Mrs. William Ripley and daughter, Lucinda. Miss Ripley will register for a course at a school of dramatic expression.

A triangular piece of land between the oil tanks on Beal street and Tannery brook is being improved by the Norway Oil Co., owners of the property. Bushes have been cut and the water hole will eventually be filled.

Callers at W. K. Bartlett's, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bartlett and children, Phyllis and Jacqueline, and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Wilson of South Paris.

Norway Grange

The all day grange meeting was held Saturday, April 25th, and the 1st and 2nd degrees were conferred on six candidates. Dinner was served at noon.

The afternoon session opened with Ralph Watson as master. Program:
Singing, "Battle Hymn of the Republic" ... Grange
Illustrated Lecture on the Hawaiian Islands ... Mr. Babb of Augusta
Piano solo ... Elizabeth Holman
Reading, "Keep Smiling" ... Adalade Young
Piano solo ... Miriam Brown
Remarks ...
Deputy Harold Pike of Waterford, Mr. Wardwell of Albany, Guy Knightly of Paris and Mrs. Grover of Waterford Grange.

Voted to exhibit at the Oxford County Fair. J. Merton Wyman and wife were the committee appointed to choose their helpers.

The next meeting, May 9th, will be Mothers' Meeting, in the evening, preceded by supper at 6:30 standard time.

Norway Grange will observe Mothers' Day at their next regular meeting, May 9. Mrs. Eva Jackson will be mistress of ceremonies and promises a very interesting meeting. There will be a ceremonial supper for Grangers at 6:30 p. m. Eastern Standard time or 7:30 Daylight time. Twelve daughters in white, with pink candles, will lead the mothers, singing "Follow the Gleam", to the dining hall below. Other members will follow in line.

Each mother will give "one sentence of prayer" led by Eva Jackson, at the beginning of the repast. Evelyn Brown will give the toast to mothers and Edith Knightly will respond for the mothers.

At the close, all will rise and sing the last two verses of Sunshine in the Soul. Then all will march up stairs to the entertainment which will consist of tableaux, readings, illustrated songs, one of which will be "Mother's Bible", sung by male voices, led by Ernest Moors, and the young men. There will be a humorous number as no one appreciates the merry side of life more than Mother.

The speaker will be Kate B. Ellis, Mother of Grange Cottage for Girls, at Fairfield, Me. She will talk on "The Home and the Grange" and say a word about her girls. A full program will be printed a little later. The fathers will serve the supper, in honor of the Mothers. Committee follow: Ned Cox, Arthur Holman, Mert Wyman, Irving Brown, Howard Knightly, Ray Bennett, Grant Abbott, S. I. Jackson, Frank Bick; twelve daughters: Margaret Knightly, Louise Knightly Bennett, Eldora Holman, Elizabeth Holman, Anna Holt, Helen McKay, Frances Doughty, Edith Gurney, Arline Hunt, Maxine Richardson, Charlotte Lougley and Florence Wyman.

A specialty will be the Misses Miriam Brown, Ruth Buswell, Lona Hunton, Etta May Judkins, Lena and Florence Cox, Edith Holt, Natalie Goodwin in "Practicing for Motherhood." They are to bring their dolls and a dress of mother's. The twelve daughters are to bring short written papers on "How I would have Mother different." This is to be a loving criticism and not signed. The papers will be well mixed and real aloud. All not solicited, bring cake or pastry for the supper. A short business meeting will follow the entertainment. The program will be open to the public, in upper hall, at 8 o'clock Eastern standard time.

Oxford County Literary Union

Meet in Norway in May

The annual meeting will be held at the American Legion Home, Tuesday, May 19.

The morning session opens at 10 o'clock. Each club president or her representative will give a review of her club activities during the past year. The delegate to Mid-winter Federation will give a report.

Florence Waugh Danforth, Past President of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs will be present and have charge of the Club Institute. Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock in the dining room of the Congregational church.

Following the luncheon, the members of the visiting Clubs are invited for a ride around Lake Pennesseewassee and the Country Club if weather permits.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock. There will be an address of unusual interest to club women by Mrs. John C. Schroeder of Portland, the clubs arranging special music and readings.

MRS. JOHN P. PENLEY

Mrs. Nellie O. Penley, 67, wife of John P. Penley, well known cattle buyer, passed away about 11:30 Tuesday forenoon, April 28, after a short illness with pneumonia. She had been in poor health the past few years and seldom went far from her home on Paris Street, Norway, where she died.

The deceased was born in Paris, Me., Dec. 4, 1862, the daughter of Nathaniel and Maria Winslow Bumpus. She attended Paris schools and Hebron Academy, then was a teacher in the district schools.

On January 17, 1880, she was united in marriage to John P. Penley of South Paris, a native of Norway, who survives her. They lived on the George P. Whitney farm in East Oxford, about twelve years ago they bought the Bisbee place, northerly side of Paris Street, where they have since resided.

Services will be held at Spiller's Funeral Home, Friday, at 2 p. m., attended by Rev. C. L. Kinney of Deering Memorial Church, South Paris. Interment at Riverside Cemetery, South Paris.

LADIES' FARM BUREAU

The ladies of the Norway Farm Bureau will hold a special meeting, Saturday, at the home of Mrs. Maude Decoster, Highland Avenue. Lunch will be served at one o'clock, and this will be a square meal for health. The hostess will provide American chop suey and members will carry whatever they wish in their lunch boxes, that will conform to the balanced dinner. The subject for the meeting in the afternoon, is the "Home Flower Garden". If each one attending will carry a tablespoonful of garden soil, Miss Phyllis Edwards will test it, to see if the soil is acid and needs lime. Members are cautioned not to handle the soil. All will carry their drinking cup.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hall were guests, Saturday, of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Richards at Mechanic Falls.

Steve Klament appeared April 20 with the motor street sprinkler which is all dolled up with red paint and ready for a busy summer. Getting into action early is greatly appreciated by the business men for cement dust has been much in evidence for some weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Locke, who have been spending the winter at Springfield, Mass., returned to Norway for the summer, Sunday evening. They came with their daughter, Mrs. Jack Chamberlain, and her son, Francis Stanton, who remained until Thursday.

What Uncle Lem Says

It isn't pleasant or agreeable to take the fault finding side of questions and conditions, but who, that dispassionately considers affairs today is satisfied with them? No such conditions have ever existed in our country as now. And what is the cause of all this? Not one alone, but several things have brought them about. Countries, states, municipalities and individuals have been living too much for pleasure and beyond their means and we even hear of several cities in different parts of New England and elsewhere that are bordering on a condition of bankruptcy. Business was never so bad, nor discontent and distrust so general. And what is there to look forward to? To say that poor times have always been succeeded by good ones is not wholly satisfying. Time is a factor in the consideration of this question. Everything depends upon our able business men. They will do what they can towards restoring good times and general prosperity, but they will have little or no help from legislative bodies, largely controlled as they are. The last Congress promoted bad conditions in business and embarassed financial management by an unjustifiable bonus measure for the World War veterans and now they are demanding full payments of their certificates at the hands of the next Congress, which if acceded to might well be considered as going far towards bankrupting the Treasury. While the country must be prepared for some interesting performances there, no such measure as the Legion officials contemplate is likely to be enacted into law, no matter what the pressure may be, or the consequences arising therefrom.

Does any sane and thinking mind really doubt that a great shaking up from top to bottom in public affairs is the need of the hour?

The traveling salesman, meeting with all classes of business men your Uncle has found to be pretty good barometers of the sentiment about the situation in the country. Although not politicians or strong partisans, they gauge pretty accurately the trend of events, and not one who has talked with the writer but has expressed decidedly the same views as himself. The incompetents and pap-suckers must go. No dishwater treatment will answer. This is more important than party regularity at the present time. —Uncle Lem.

HEBRON

Among those what attended the Passion Play in Lewiston last week are Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Bergman, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Glover, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Sturtevant and Miss Agnes Bearce.

Prof. and Mrs. Eric O. Berg and children of South Portland visited her mother, Mrs. Edith Cushman, recently.

Several from this place attended the Odd Fellows' meeting at South Paris, Sunday, and heard Henry Merrill of Portland, who was one of the speakers.

WASHING CURTAINS

Net and lace curtains may be dried with even hems and sides if heavy brass curtain rods are run through the hems at the top and bottom, and the curtains are suspended. The rod at the top may rest on two nails or hooks, or the curtain may be hung at a window with the rod slipped into the rod supports. The weight of the rod at the bottom stretches the cutain evenly and holds it in place as it dries. After the curtain is dry, it may be pressed lightly with a warm iron to give it a sheen and a finished appearance.

FRYEBURG

Guest Night Observed—Ela Bought Roberts Place—Mrs. Hutchins Returned Home—Knox Boy in Hospital.

Friday evening was the annual Guest Night of the Fryeburg Woman's Library Club. Miss Gail Laughlin of Portland was the speaker. Mrs. Charlotte Pike Lowell of Westbrook gave two very pleasing selections, accompanied by H. A. D. Hurd. The Library was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and refreshments were served during the social hour, which followed the program.

Fred T. Ela, the past week, purchased the Henry Roberts place at East Conway together with all the furnishings and equipment and has also sold the corner lot of his Olney property to Frank A. Hill and a piece of timberland to Joseph P. St. John of Conway.

Mr. Garland of Glen, N. H., has been a recent visitor of his daughter, Mrs. Edith Whitaker.

Miss Evelyn Moulton spent the week end with Helene Seavey of Lovell.

Miss Dorothy Thompson and Vera Haley, with Miss Ruth Piper, spent the week end in Laconia, N. H.

Miss Lillian Hobbs, who has been visiting Mrs. Charles Matson, in Overbrook, Pennsylvania, for several weeks, has returned home.

Mrs. Lillian Hutchins has returned to Fryeburg and has opened her home, after having spent most of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Goodwin, in Augusta.

Harlan Ballard has started his work for the summer, as chef at the Fryeburg fruit store.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flint of Sebago Lake were week end guests of his sister, Mrs. Laura Lombard.

Frank Knox, one of the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Knox, is again a patient at the Maine General Hospital in Portland, where he is ill as the result of pneumonia. The boy was in the hospital with the disease several weeks, but recovered sufficiently to be able to return home, where he suffered a relapse.

Fred Ela and family have moved into their new home on Main Street.

Mountain View Temple, Pythian Sisters will hold a sale of cooked foods at the Fryeburg Fruit Store, May 2, at 2:30 o'clock.

The firemen's annual banquet was held at Ye Olde Inn, Wednesday evening. During the after-dinner speeches, there were many testimonials to Fire Chief George H. Coleman, who has served since the organization of the department, and to whose patience, knowledge and experience is due the high state of efficiency to which the volunteer department has been brought. Chief Coleman was presented with a fountain pen, suitably engraved, by the members of the company, and assured of the hearty support of members and citizens. He responded to the gift and consented to serve as chief for the coming year.

During the early part of last week the garage used by Glenn E. Swan as a plumbing shop, was broken into. Nothing was taken as Mr. Swan had locked up or hidden most of his tools and taken the rest of them with him. On Sunday morning Fred E. Haley went to go into the Harriman house on Main street, where he and Mr. Swan had been making repairs and he found that someone had attempted to gain entrance during the night, but after leaving part of a skeleton key broken off in the lock the thief had evidently given up the job.

FRYEBURG—FISH STREET

Miss Carolyn A. Pratt was a dinner guest at John Gray's at the Harbor on Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Hawkes and daughters from High Pine were callers in the neighborhood during the week end.

Mrs. Leon D. Charles and daughter, Hester, spent the week end with friends in Portland.

William H. Smith has a new Ford roadster.

Virgil Smith has commenced building his barn. E. F. McIntire has charge of the job.

Mrs. Ward Hatch and two children from High Pine were week end guests at C. W. Farrington's.

Elmer E. Baker was in Dixfield on business, Monday.

FRYEBURG—TOLL BRIDGE

Byron Cram of Brownfield spent the week end with Fred Holt.

Mrs. Hawkes and two daughters of Wells visited Mrs. Myron Allen, Friday and Saturday. The Hawkes were residents here during the building of the bridge last year.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McAllister has returned home from their visit.

Mr. and Mrs Roland McAllister moved into "Crab Apple Cottage" for the season, April 27.

Allan Fraser will soon begin his season's work at Indian Acres.

Hornpouting, evenings when not too cold, has taken the place of smelting.

Halbert and Roland McAllister are working for E. C. Buzzell & Son at the Center.

HARBOR

Mrs. Percy Jones has visited at her father's, Wesley Heald's, and sister's, Mrs. John Gray's. Mrs. Jones is not able to walk without crutches, yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hurd were in Norway, Friday.

Mrs. Hawkes and two daughters of Wells were guests at John Gray's over the week end. Mrs. Hawkes lived in the Gray house and boarded the bridge crew last year and has many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Stanley were guests of her father, W. J. Haley, Saturday night and Sunday.

Shirley Benson celebrated his birthday the 24th, with guests for supper and the evening.

The Cemetery Association held a box supper Friday evening.

One secret of good health is Electric Refrigeration

Science agrees that the food you eat should be kept at a temperature under 50 degrees. An Electric Refrigerator insures this in your home. Its low cost makes it possible for you to own one today.

Hooray! Home-made ice cream for dinner. There's a new zest to meal times when you have an Electric Refrigerator. Dozens of new, delightful dishes can be easily prepared—every one bringing a cheer from the family.

TO safeguard the family health you must keep fresh and wholesome such foods as milk and cream, butter and eggs, meats and vegetables. You can do it easily, conveniently, with an Electric Refrigerator because the temperature, automatically controlled, insures food protection the whole year around.

Leftovers are safely kept so that they may appear later in new and savory dishes.

A convenient supply of ice cubes is always at hand.

Chilled and frozen desserts and salads, which perhaps you have never served before, are quickly and easily made. If you expect guests in the afternoon or for the evening meal you can prepare these cold dainties in the morning or even the day before and they will be ready to serve whenever you want them.

You may enjoy the comfort of an Electric Refrigerator at once. But a small amount down will bring you the model of your choice today. Prices are low and you may have ample time to pay.

OBSERVATIONS AND COMMENT

By R. L. Cummings of West Paris

I have read with much interest the address of Ex-Governor Baxter as to the reasons for his change of front from his firm stand against export of power in 1927 to his stand for export in 1929. However, the people did not change with him, so we can let that question remain as settled. I wish to thank him for sending me the printed copy of the address. There is much in the lines and I believe more to be read between the lines. It is such a human document that it should have even more publicity.

There are many sermons in one item that he treats under the heading of "Influence of Concentrated Capital" as follows, and in surveying the State as a whole, I see but few young men and women willing to take up the issue long for by their elders. Young people wish to advance their career and ambitions as all have the right to be, and interest in the future rather than the past. To get ahead in the world they look to the leaders in industry and in the professions who have power and influence in business and financial circles. Young lawyers, business men and especially young politicians, hesitate to antagonize the great interests that may exert so wide and expanding an influence in the activities of our State, and very seldom is willing to stand for a cause that means nothing to it in its climb up the ladder of success."

Whoever says that, says that our future leaders are to be purchased by the dollars of those men and corporations of great wealth. One can point triumphantly to the fact that one organization alone represents a large body of such interests and political buccaneers in a short time distributed over this country over [illegible] 000,000.

My dear governor, if you look into that situation carefully, I believe you will find that the expenditure of money and influence of that same nature has influenced legislatures, courts and commissions to the end that those interested in that manner obtain more wealth to obtain more power to obtain more wealth and so the endless chain is forged.

Political and financial corruption has been at a premium ever since the day when Theodore Roosevelt stepped down from the White House. Its inflation has exceeded that of the stock market of 1929.

We must choose between Democracy, Plutocracy and Anarchy. They cannot all thrive on the same ground. Which of them shall we choose? "Ye cannot serve two masters."

I wish to call the attention of [illegible] to one very important fact that is plainly indicated in Governor Baxter's address, that is, that whenever you vote for those young aspirants to office who seek the favors of those rich corporations you can be sure that you are voting for men who, when you elect them to office, they will serve those interests and not your interests.

The men and women who have been of the votes that we usually speak of as "The public" profit nothing from the process but are in fact the very people who actually pay the cash that pays for these millions of dollars of propaganda as well as the swollen fortunes of the men that contribute to these funds.

Years ago it was clearly seen by the astute politicians and financiers that in order to control the farmer they must work their "under-cover" men into the important offices in the farmers' organizations like the Grange and other influential societies through which the farmer can be reached. Governor Baxter has seen these things as he has stated in his address. Surely we all can see them. Young men eager for office and seeking advancement with their mouth wide open and tongue extended ready to suck up to serve, if anything may be put in their way. We are heartily ashamed of them: It is a fact that they seldom go far in their climb before the people grow wise to them and then those people whose interests which they sought to serve have no further use for them because they cannot deliver the goods that they were elected which in the last analysis is "Votes."

If I am not mistaken, the people are thinking more seriously on these matters than ever before. If they continue to do their own thinking, they will solve the problem of the great depression in which we now are wallowing.

I have just attended by invitation a meeting of the Auburn Chamber of Commerce. In their letter they say they do not understand the problems of the farmer, but wish to. As usual, there was no opportunity whatever for the farmer to state his case, but to sit and be taught by people who do not understand or for some other reason do not state those problems, or offer a remedy except the old threadbare argument to produce high grade goods and sell them well and employ our inspectors that we may have jobs, so that you can get your money by selling to the millions of people with empty stomachs and empty pocketbooks. This part seemed a little harder than usual because it seemed to be abridged somewhat.

The one lucid spot was the ardent, intelligent and almost desperate appeal of Commissioner of Agriculture, Felker of New Hampshire, to the farmers of Maine to "hold on, and then hold on."

I wanted to tell him the story of Mr. and Mrs. Conn of this place, about two years ago. That was before prohibition, you see, and Mr. and Mrs. Conn had been to the store with a team and were on their way home. The road was icy and Mrs. Conn was walking behind holding onto the wagon, while Mr. Conn evidently in no condition to walk, was shouting, "Hold on, Mrs. Conn; hold on, Mrs. Conn." Mrs. Conn replied, "God bless your soul, my dear Mr. Conn, I am a-holding on."

Of course the Commissioner from New Hampshire being on the program with Com. Washburn from Maine, his address may have been somewhat influenced by that fact. I notice when he wanted to boost the doings here, he had to ask the man if it was 75,000 barrels of apples that he and his helpers (inspectors) had passed on to foreign countries this year, using it as an illustration of the good things that our Agricultural Department had done for us, it seemed as if he had been posted and somewhat forgetful in his lines.

I would like to inform Mr. Felker that before we had any political or official interference with the apple business I was one of the many firms engaged in the export of apples, that firm being the one of which I was a member, shipped 80,000 barrels in one year, 30,000 of which I bought and packed personally.

The apples packed at that time were of better quality than those grown under the official interference that we have had for years since. The reason as I see it is that unwise interference has destroyed the confidence in the grower in his ability to get the cost of production on his apples, with the result that profits more than 200,000 barrels of Maine apples rotted on the ground, while apples that were condemned as not suitable to pack were packed and passed through Massachusetts and net from $3.00 to $4.55 per barrel back home.

Here lies one of the many lessons for our men who want to know the problems of the farmer can learn if they care to learn. I would recommend this to Mr. Felker.

What Uncle Lem Says

It isn't pleasant or agreeable to take the fault finding side of questions and conditions, but who, that dispassionately considers affairs today is satisfied with them? No such conditions have ever existed in our country as now. And what is the cause of all this? Not one alone, but several things have brought them about. Countries, states, municipalities and individuals have been living too much for pleasure and beyond their means and we even hear of several cities in different parts of New England and elsewhere that are bordering on a condition of bankruptcy. Business was never so bad, nor discontent and distrust so general. And what is there to look forward to? To say that poor times have always been succeeded by good ones is not wholly satisfying. Time is a factor in the consideration of this question. Everything depends upon our able business men. They will do what they can towards restoring good times and general prosperity, but they will have little or no help from legislative bodies, largely controlled as they are. The last Congress promoted bad conditions in business and embarassed financial management by an unjustifiable bonus measure for the World War veterans and now they are demanding full payments of their certificates at the hands of the next Congress, which if acceded to might well be considered as going far towards bankrupting the Treasury. While the country must be prepared for some interesting performances there, no such measure as the Legion officials contemplate is likely to be enacted into law, no matter what the pressure may be, or the consequences arising therefrom.

Does any sane and thinking mind really doubt that a great shaking up from top to bottom in public affairs is the need of the hour?

The traveling salesman, meeting with all classes of business men your Uncle has found to be pretty good barometers of the sentiment about the situation in the country. Although not politicians or strong partisans, they gauge pretty accurately the trend of events, and not one who has talked with the writer but has expressed decidedly the same views as himself. The incompetents and pap-suckers must go. No dishwater treatment will answer. This is more important than party regularity at the present time. —Uncle Lem.

HEBRON

Among those what attended the Passion Play in Lewiston last week are Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Bergman, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Glover, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Sturtevant and Miss Agnes Bearce.

Prof. and Mrs. Eric O. Berg and children of South Portland visited her mother, Mrs. Edith Cushman, recently.

Several from this place attended the Odd Fellows' meeting at South Paris, Sunday, and heard Henry Merrill of Portland, who was one of the speakers.

WASHING CURTAINS

Net and lace curtains may be dried with even hems and sides if heavy brass curtain rods are run through the hems at the top and bottom, and the curtains are suspended. The rod at the top may rest on two nails or hooks, or the curtain may be hung at a window with the rod slipped into the rod supports. The weight of the rod at the bottom stretches the cutain evenly and holds it in place as it dries. After the curtain is dry, it may be pressed lightly with a warm iron to give it a sheen and a finished appearance.

FRYEBURG

Guest Night Observed—Ela Bought Roberts Place—Mrs. Hutchins Returned Home—Knox Boy in Hospital.

Friday evening was the annual Guest Night of the Fryeburg Woman's Library Club. Miss Gail Laughlin of Portland was the speaker. Mrs. Charlotte Pike Lowell of Westbrook gave two very pleasing selections, accompanied by H. A. D. Hurd. The Library was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and refreshments were served during the social hour, which followed the program.

Fred T. Ela, the past week, purchased the Henry Roberts place at East Conway together with all the furnishings and equipment and has also sold the corner lot of his Olney property to Frank A. Hill and a piece of timberland to Joseph P. St. John of Conway.

Mr. Garland of Glen, N. H., has been a recent visitor of his daughter, Mrs. Edith Whitaker.

Miss Evelyn Moulton spent the week end with Helene Seavey of Lovell.

Miss Dorothy Thompson and Vera Haley, with Miss Ruth Piper, spent the week end in Laconia, N. H.

Miss Lillian Hobbs, who has been visiting Mrs. Charles Matson, in Overbrook, Pennsylvania, for several weeks, has returned home.

Mrs. Lillian Hutchins has returned to Fryeburg and has opened her home, after having spent most of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Goodwin, in Augusta.

Harlan Ballard has started his work for the summer, as chef at the Fryeburg fruit store.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flint of Sebago Lake were week end guests of his sister, Mrs. Laura Lombard.

Frank Knox, one of the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Knox, is again a patient at the Maine General Hospital in Portland, where he is ill as the result of pneumonia. The boy was in the hospital with the disease several weeks, but recovered sufficiently to be able to return home, where he suffered a relapse.

Fred Ela and family have moved into their new home on Main Street.

Mountain View Temple, Pythian Sisters will hold a sale of cooked foods at the Fryeburg Fruit Store, May 2, at 2:30 o'clock.

The firemen's annual banquet was held at Ye Olde Inn, Wednesday evening. During the after-dinner speeches, there were many testimonials to Fire Chief George H. Coleman, who has served since the organization of the department, and to whose patience, knowledge and experience is due the high state of efficiency to which the volunteer department has been brought. Chief Coleman was presented with a fountain pen, suitably engraved, by the members of the company, and assured of the hearty support of members and citizens. He responded to the gift and consented to serve as chief for the coming year.

During the early part of last week the garage used by Glenn E. Swan as a plumbing shop, was broken into. Nothing was taken as Mr. Swan had locked up or hidden most of his tools and taken the rest of them with him. On Sunday morning Fred E. Haley went to go into the Harriman house on Main street, where he and Mr. Swan had been making repairs and he found that someone had attempted to gain entrance during the night, but after leaving part of a skeleton key broken off in the lock the thief had evidently given up the job.

FRYEBURG—FISH STREET

Miss Carolyn A. Pratt was a dinner guest at John Gray's at the Harbor on Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Hawkes and daughters from High Pine were callers in the neighborhood during the week end.

Mrs. Leon D. Charles and daughter, Hester, spent the week end with friends in Portland.

William H. Smith has a new Ford roadster.

Virgil Smith has commenced building his barn. E. F. McIntire has charge of the job.

Mrs. Ward Hatch and two children from High Pine were week end guests at C. W. Farrington's.

Elmer E. Baker was in Dixfield on business, Monday.

FRYEBURG—TOLL BRIDGE

Byron Cram of Brownfield spent the week end with Fred Holt.

Mrs. Hawkes and two daughters of Wells visited Mrs. Myron Allen, Friday and Saturday. The Hawkes were residents here during the building of the bridge last year.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McAllister has returned home from their visit.

Mr. and Mrs Roland McAllister moved into "Crab Apple Cottage" for the season, April 27.

Allan Fraser will soon begin his season's work at Indian Acres.

Hornpouting, evenings when not too cold, has taken the place of smelting.

Halbert and Roland McAllister are working for E. C. Buzzell & Son at the Center.

HARBOR

Mrs. Percy Jones has visited at her father's, Wesley Heald's, and sister's, Mrs. John Gray's. Mrs. Jones is not able to walk without crutches, yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hurd were in Norway, Friday.

Mrs. Hawkes and two daughters of Wells were guests at John Gray's over the week end. Mrs. Hawkes lived in the Gray house and boarded the bridge crew last year and has many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Stanley were guests of her father, W. J. Haley, Saturday night and Sunday.

Shirley Benson celebrated his birthday the 24th, with guests for supper and the evening.

The Cemetery Association held a box supper Friday evening.

Anniversary Night Observed—Guests at Dennett's.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dennett were supper guests, Saturday night, of Mr. and Mrs. J. L Dennett of Conway Center

Mrs Weed from Freedom, N H., is working for Mrs. Merton Bell.

Mrs. Arthur Wiley has been assisting her mother, Mrs. Almon Hill, with her housecleaning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goldthwaite were Saturday afternoon callers on Mr and Mrs. C. E Baker

Mrs Amelia Hutchins has been working in Conway for Mrs. Fred Eaton.

"Anniversary night" was observed by Julian Rebekah Lodge at its regular meeting, Saturday night; there was a good attendance. The birthdays of those members which occur in the months of March and April were duly celebrated with special favors to those concerned. A fine program was given, followed by a delicious lunch. District meeting will be held with this lodge, Monday afternoon and evening, June 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dennett entertained the following guests, Sunday: Clarence Walker and daughter, Norma, from Bridgton, and Mr. and Mrs. Roland McInnis and young daughter from Jackson, N. H.

John Stearns entertained his school friend, Vernon Skillings, from the village on Saturday. The boys enjoyed themselves by roaming the woods and hunting squirrels.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stearns and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Stearns' mother at West Fryeburg.

One secret of good health is Electric Refrigeration

Science agrees that the food you eat should be kept at a temperature under 50 degrees. An Electric Refrigerator insures this in your home. Its low cost makes it possible for you to own one today.

Hooray! Home-made ice cream for dinner. There's a new zest to meal times when you have an Electric Refrigerator. Dozens of new, delightful dishes can be easily prepared—every one bringing a cheer from the family.

INVEST IN AN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

TO safeguard the family health you must keep fresh and wholesome such foods as milk and cream, butter and eggs, meats and vegetables. You can do it easily, conveniently, with an Electric Refrigerator because the temperature, automatically controlled, insures food protection the whole year around.

Leftovers are safely kept so that they may appear later in new and savory dishes.

A convenient supply of ice cubes is always at hand.

Chilled and frozen desserts and salads, which perhaps you have never served before, are quickly and easily made. If you expect guests in the afternoon or for the evening meal you can prepare these cold dainties in the morning or even the day before and they will be ready to serve whenever you want them.

You may enjoy the comfort of an Electric Refrigerator at once. But a small amount down will bring you the model of your choice today. Prices are low and you may have ample time to pay.

Wherever Electric Refrigerators are sold you will be gladly given a complete demonstration.

I have read with much interest th address of Ex-Governor Baxter as to th reasons for his change of front fro his firm stand against export of pow in 1927 to his stand for export in 192 However, the people did not change wit him, so we can let that question remai as settled. I wish to thank him f sending me the printed copy of the a dress. There is much in the lines and believe more to be read between the It is such a human document that should have even more publicity.

There are many sermons in one ite that he treats under the heading of "I fluence of Concentrated Capital" as f lows, and in surveying the State as whole, I see but few young men a women willing to take up the issue fough for by their elders. Young people w wish to advance their career and ambi ons as all have the right to be, and interest in the future rather than the past. To get ahead in the wor they look to the leaders in industry a in the professions who have power a influence in business and financial c cles. Young lawyers, business men a especially young politicians, hesitate antagonize the great interests that a exert so wide and expanding an influe in the activities of our State, and yo seldom is willing to stand for a ca that means nothing to it in its climb the ladder of success."

Whoever says that, says that our ture leaders are to be purchased by dollars of those men and corporations great wealth. One can point triumphantly to the fact that one organization represents a large body of such financ and political buccaneer's in a short ti distributed over this country over $ 000,000.

My dear governer, if you look o that situation carefully, I believe will find that the expenditure of mo and influence of that same nature influenced legislatures, courts and c missions to the end that those interest in that manner obtain more wealth obtain more power to obtain more wea and so the endless chain is forged.

Political and financial corruption been at a premium ever since the when Theodore Roosevelt stepped do from the White House. Its inflation exceeded that of the stock market 1929.

We must choose between Democr Plutocracy and Anarchy. They can all thrive on the same ground. Wh of them shall we choose? "Ye can serve two Masters."

I wish to call the attention of peo to one very important fact that is v plainly indicated in Governor Bax address, that is, that whenever you for those young aspirants to office t seek the favors of those rich corporati you can be sure that you are voting men who, when you elect them to o they will serve those interests and your interests.

The men and women who have g of the votes that we usually speak o "The public" profit nothing from t process but are in fact the very po who actually pay the cash that pays these millions of dollars of propagan as well as the swollen fortunes of men that contribute to these funds.

Years ago it was clearly seen by th astute politicians and financiers that order to control the farmer they m work their "under-cover" men into important offices in the farmers' or izations like the Grange and other i ential societies through which the far can be reached. Governor Baxter seen these things as he has stated in t address. Surely we all can see th Young men eager for office and s advancement with their mouth wide o and tongue extended ready to suck to serve, if anything may be pa their way. We are heartily ashamed them: It is a fact that they seldom far in their climb before the people wise to them and then these predat interests which they sought to serve no further use for them because t cannot deliver the goods that they w which in the last analysis is "Votes."

If I am not mistaken, the people thinking more seriously on these mat than ever before. If they continue do their own thinking, they will s the problem of the great depression which we now are wallowing.

I have just attended by invitation meeting of the Auburn Chamber of C merce. In their letter they say they not understand the problems of farmer, but wish to. As usual, t was no opportunity whatever for farmer to state his case, but to sit be taught by people who do not un stand or for some other reason do state those problems, or offer a rea except the old threadbare argument produce high grade goods and sort well and employ our inspectors that have jobs, so that you can get money by selling to the millions of p with empty stomachs and empty po books. This part seemed a little b than usual because it seemed to abridged somewhat.

The one lucid spot was the ardent, gent and almost desperate appeal of Commissioner of Agriculture, Felker New Hampshire, to the farmers of M to "hold on, and then hold on."

I wanted to tell him the story of and Mrs. Conn of this place, about years ago. That was before prohibit you see, and Mr. and Mrs. Conn been to the store with a team and on their way home. The road was r and Mrs. Conn was walking behind holding onto the wagon, while Mr. evidently in no condition to walk, shouting, "Hold on, Mrs. Conn; hold Mrs. Conn." Mrs. Conn replied, " bless your soul, my dear Mr. Conn, I a-holding on."

Of course the Commissioner from Hampshire being on the program Com. Washburn from Maine, his ad may have been somewhat influenced that fact. I notice when he wante boost the doings here, he had to ask man if it was 75,000 barrels of ap that he and his helpers (inspectors) passed on to foreign countries this using it as an illustration of the g things that our Agricultural Departm had done for us, it seemed as if he been posted and somewhat forgetfu his lines.

I would like to inform Mr. Felker before we had any political or offi interference with the apple business one of the many firms engaged in export of apples, that firm being the of which I was a member, shipped 80 barrels in one year, 30,000 of whi bought and packed personally.

The apples packed at that time better quality than those grown n the official interference that we have for years since. The reason as I s is that unwise interference has destro the confidence in the grower in his a ity to get the cost of production o his apples, with the result that prob more than 200,000 barrels of Maine ples rotted on the ground, while ar that were condemned as not suitabl pack were packed and passed thr Massachusetts and net from $3.00 $4.55 per barrel back home.

Here lies one of the many lessons our men who want to know the probl of the farmer can learn if they ca learn. I would recommend this to Felker.

OBSERVATIONS AND COMMENTS

By R. L. Cummings of West Paris

I have read with much interest the address of Ex-Governor Baxter as to the reasons for his change of front from his firm stand against export of power in 1927 to his stand for export in 1929. However, the people did not change with him, so we can let that question remain as it is. I wish to thank him for sending me the printed copy of the address. Mrs. Ella Dawes has been assisting at H. C. Kneeland's. Miss Olive Ingalls, who has been ill at her home in Bridgton, has returned to Kneeland's.

The Harrison Cemetery Association held their annual meeting last week. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

Pres.—Dr. James P. Blake.
Vice Pres.—Fred S. Lamb.
Secretary—Mrs. Ralph Burnham.
Treasurer—H. Oscar Kneeland.
Standing Committee—Frank P. Bennett, George A. Flint, Hollis H. Caswell.

The Harrison Fire Department were called to two bad chimney fires, recently. One at Leslie Nason's and the other near the I. O. O. F. block to Raymond Butterfield's. They were also called to a bad grass fire near Mrs. Eliza Hibbard's on Bridgton Road.

Mildred Dudley has been stopping at her home on Depot street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar O. Spaulding and daughter, Florence, who have spent the winter in Florida are at their home on Waterford Road and Mr. Spaulding has opened his studio on Front street.

Miss Lucille Kneeland has returned from the Ricker Hotel in Augusta, Ga., where she was employed the past winter. She is now at the Poland Spring House at Poland.

Samuel Lee Pitts went Sunday to Boston for a few days.

Fred A. Whitney passed away Sunday at his home after a long lingering illness. Mr. Whitney was born Nov. 20, 1859, and had spent most of his life in this town. He is survived by his widow, Mabel (Wheeler) Whitney, and four sons, Harry F. of Wilton, George Arthur and Howard S. of Harrison, Percy T. of Oxford, and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Maines of Harrison. He also leaves two brothers, Horace of Portland, and Henry of Harrison. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home. Rev. Andrew Young officiated. Burial was in Harrison cemetery.

Woodland Rebekah Lodge held a public whist at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hapgood on Waterford Road, Saturday evening. There were several tables at play and a fine evening was enjoyed. Refreshments were on sale.

Miss P. Ethel Whitney of Melrose, Mass., is spending the week at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Davis, who are stopping in Sweden, spent the week end at their home here.

HARRISON—SCRIBNER'S MILLS

Arthur Mowatt is having a vacation from his work in Sweden.

Mrs. Ilan Smart of Sweden spent the day, recently, with her mother, Mrs. Georgia Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Merrill and family motored to Milton, Sunday.

Mrs. Georgia Allen entertained her sister, Mrs. Quiney, of Bridgton, the past week.

Mrs. Walter Crockett, Geo. and Alice Crockett were at their home here one day the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Crockett will be home by the middle of June to stay.

John Woodis is so he gets out to work some. He has had a hard time with his foot, as blood poisoning set in after he cut it on Feb. 13.

The Brown prize speaking was held at Bridgton Academy, Thursday evening, April 16, and one of the largest audiences ever to witness this event was present. Great credit is due to Charles Getchell, head of the English department, at Bridgton, for the work of those participating. The first prize of ten dollars went to Paul Abrams of Dorchester, Mass., while Dorothy Perry of Waterford won the first prize for the girls, also of ten dollars. The second prize of five dollars went to Elston Ingalls of Buxton.

CANTON

J. Eugene Hiscock

J. Eugene Hiscock died Wednesday, April 22, at his late home in North Chesterville, after a week's illness from flu and bronchial pneumonia. He was born in Farmington, December 23, 1854, the son of John and Susan Deane Hiscock, and the greater part of his life was spent on the farm where he was born. About twelve years ago as his health began to fail, he purchased a smaller farm in North Chesterville, where he has since resided, his younger son, Deane, carrying on the home farm.

On December 29, 1877, he was united in marriage with Miss Angie Corbett of New Vineyard who survives him, as does his only sister, Charlotte, wife of Ira Vaughan of Oakland, California. He is also survived by his three children, Prof. Ira Vaughan Hiscock of Yale niversity, New Haven, Ct., Deane Brooks Hiscock of Farmington, and Florence, wife of G. Albert Ellis of Canton, nine grandchildren, Lillian, wife of Robert E. Robinson of Windham Hills; Oliver and Eugene Ellis of Canton; Billy and Peggy Hiscock of New Haven, Ct., and Deane Jr., Roland, Claire, and Clarence Hiscocks of Farmington; and two great grandchildren, Margaret and Bobby Robinson of Windham Hills.

Mr. Hiscock was loved and respected by a large circle of friends, a devoted husband and father, a kind and obliging neighbor, and a true friend, who will be greatly missed. The funeral was held from the home, Friday, and was private, owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Hiscock, the friends calling between 1 and 2 p. m. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Albert Henderson of Farmington, assisted by Rev. Mabel Johnson of North Chesterville. The profusion of beautiful flowers gave silent testimony of love and esteem. The bearers were lifelong friends, Harry Knowlton, Floyd Lamkin, Elmer Wright, Mahlon Gray, Eugene Campbell and John Keene.

MAYFLOWERS

Sweet little fragrant Mayflowers
First to come in the spring;
With your white and pink little blossoms
To gladden our hearts with cheer.

Sweet little fragrant Mayflowers,
Hiding away from us all,
Away in the woods, and the meadow,
We come and gather you all.

Sweet little fragrant Mayflowers,
I hate to destroy your winter bed,
But your sweet little fragrant blossoms
Call our children's attention there.

Miss Grover Given Shower—Culbert Child in Hospital—Attended Passion Play—Honor Guest Absent.

The Athletic Association held another public bridge party Wednesday evening, at the garage of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Stiles.

The funeral services of Robert Henderson were held Saturday afternoon from his home on High street with Miss Glover, pastor of the Adventist church officiating. Interment was at Pine Grove cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gammon are guests of their son, Fred, at Portland.

Mrs. Ella Keene has returned from a visit their son, Fred, at Worcester, Mass.

Mrt. and Mrs. Albert Wood, Portland were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trebilcock.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Grover, Saturday afternoon, Miss Ada Grover was given a variety shower by Oxford and Welchville friends in honor of her approaching marriage to Philip Hunt of Norway. Miss Grover is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artemus Grover, and is a graduate of O. H. S., 1927. The party was in charge of Mrs. Alton Grover and Mrs. Emil Barrett and a complete surprise to Miss Grover. The party escorted her to the dining room where a display of attractive gifts was arranged, with a large bride's cake as a centerpiece. Cake and punch was served and games enjoyed.

Those present were Bertha McAllister, Agnes Culbert, Doris Culbert, Rose Hamlin, Laura Daniels, Lizzie Spears, Leona McAllister, Marion Howe, Helen Heslop, Mildred Grover, Bessie Trebilcock, Annie Trebilcock, Ida Records, Edith Kemp, Kate Starbird, Vera Stanton, Sophonia Staples, Hazel Morse, Ethel Culbert, Beulah Barrett, Caroline Hannaford, Elizabeth Hannaford, Nellie Walker and Beulah Mae Barrett.

John Hall of East Oxford, who has been very ill for several weeks, is much improved.

Mrs. P. E. Culbert, who has been stopping with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grover for a few days, took her daughter, Leotine, to the C. M. G. Hospital, Lewiston, Monday, for an operation for appendicitis.

Among those from Oxford who attended the Passion Play at Lewiston were Louise Wood, Mildred Grover, Lulu Andrews, Mamie Farris, Olna Hall, Effie Towne, Mr. and Mrs. Eli McAllister, Norman McAllister, Beulah Wilder, George Wilder, Rev. Paul Walker, Ida Stone, Genevieve Andrews, Lillian Andrews, Vera Stanton.

Norman Fogg of Yarmouth was a week end guest at Caribel Smith's.

Rev. and Mrs. L. Clark French of Stratton were entertained Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mamie Farris.

Alfred Spears is doing some painting for Geo. Jones.

A reception planned as a surprise for Rev. Paul W. Walker, Monday evening, in the vestry of the church, came off as scheduled, but the pastor, who is about to leave Oxford for other activities, failed to appear on the evening train from Portland where he had been attending the Methodist conference, so the party proceeded without him. About seventy-five were present, several coming from neighboring towns. The following program was carried out.

Vocal solo ..... Ida Stone
Violin solo ..... Ruth Stoehr
Reading ..... Marion Bean
Vocal solo ..... Ethel Hirst
Violin solo ..... Elinor Andrews
Trumpet solo ..... Rev. Mains, Otisfield
Violin solo ..... Hazel Marshall
Reading ..... Virginia Holden

Refreshments were served.

Portions of New York State witnessed a belated mid-winter snow storm over the week end. In places, snow piled from six inches to five feet. Maine didn't see anything like that.

A public auction will be held Saturday, May 2, at 10 o'clock at the residence of the late Charles V. Penney, Norway Road, Mechanic Falls, including household goods. C. A. Austin, auctioneer. See ad in this issue.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

We have been printing posters for Arthur C. Buck of Norway for an auction, Wednesday, May 6. See ad. in this issue.

The Elmer Morrill farm on Pike's Hill is for sale. An advertisement in this issue describes the property and tells who is in charge of the sale.

Six inches of snow was reported from South Arm, Thursday morning. Our rain storm Sunday was snow up there and more fell during the week.

Lawrence Wyman of Norway Center brought in a man's red and black mitten which he had picked up in the driveway leading to Cummings' mill, Wednesday.

Frank Knight of West Paris uses our Intelligence Column this week. His police-collie dog, Nick, is lost and a description may be found under the head "Lost". Read the ad., return Nick and earn a reward.

Watch the Advertiser—there are a lot of interesting articles to appear soon, among the writers are Mrs. Alma Pendexter Hayden of Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Ellen Davenport of Worcester, Mass., Don C. Seitz of New York, and others.

The Sports Editor came near being scalped Wednesday forenoon. He was getting lodge items at Faneuf's Restaurant, industriously taking down notes, when all of a sudden, Horace, the monkey, grabbed him from the rear, by the hair of the head, as Shorty was about to place him on his chain. A tugging match ensued between the three participants, with Mrs. Faneuf as referee.

The boys and girls selling Advertisers say they would greatly appreciate it if those buying papers would have their nickels ready on Thursday afternoon, and if they are in the habit of being away when the paper is delivered, it they would arrange to leave the money some place, known to them and the boy, as the boys and girls often have to make two or three trips to collect the money, if they do not receive it at the time the paper is delivered.

A reminder of pre-Volstead days probably about 1906, was handed to us by Murray Russell, it being a catalogue of wines and liquors from a wholesale house in Boston. This literature was mailed with the greatest freedom in those days. Many can recall the going prices from 50c to $1.25 per bottle plus express charges, with no fear of blindness or monkey tactics. The pamphlet was found in an old building Mr. Russell recently demolished.

Harry R. Virgin of Boston settles the speculative question of what became of the silver ball won from the Pennessewassee Club by the Eons of Portland in a state championship baseball match. Mr. Virgin says James Hopkins, of South Portland and New York, who played on the Eons, has the ball now. The trophy was won in 1867 and dropped out of sight after being on exhibition in the Portland store windows for months.

Harry Greenleaf showed us a page from an old paper which read: "The New England Courent, Monday, Feb. 4, to Monday, Feb. 11, 1732." It seemed like the original, but on the reverse side was, "Fac-Simile of the first paper ever issued by Franklin and printed Sept. 17, 1856, on a press once used by him." Even at that the paper is seventy-five years old. It was found in the Stuart house at South Paris, where Mr. Greenleaf was making repairs.

Changing time has befuddled more than one good man, we are told. Selectman Raymond H. Eastman entered Jackson & Holden's store one morning this week to inform Scott Pottle, who winds the town clock that the timepiece had stopped. It was 6:30 on the tower, but Mr. Eastman's watch and the store clock pointed to 7:30. After a bit of stringing the fact dawned on the victim that the difference between daylight and standard had a lot to do about it. The town clock didn't need winding.

Eugene B. Lane of Berlin, N. H., says: To the Editor of the Norway Advertiser: I'm disappointed in the Advertiser, where are the story-tellers of fishing trips and exploits that one needs at this time of year as much as a spring tonic Not one so far, and I thought that was one of the Advertiser's strong points, hope they have not all left the state. Makes me think of a rhyme I read years ago. "Where are the Pilgrims? Where the good old days?
Except the clergy, where's the man who prays?
Alas they're in the mansion of the Most—
All save a few who chose to go out West."

I'll take a chance and squander another two dollars and mind you those dollars come hard these times, so if you want to keep this subscriber get onto your job. Best regards, hope you may get some fishing thrills if we poor nuts have to stick to work."

The coming August, Bethel will have a fine opportunity to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Indian raid on the cabins of Lieut Jonathan Clark and other settlers. This occurred on Aug. 3, 1781. One hundred years after in 1881 Bethel staged a blood curdling pageant on the common depicting the raid. Great liberty was taken with the story as handed down by historians, but it was a thriller for the times. The sports editor was a green country bumpkin nine years old and roosted for two hours on the sharp edge of the common fence, with the hot sun pouring down full force. The kid was absorbed in the mock scalping and gun play unmindful of physical conditions. Why shouldn't Bethel re-act the story with wild Indians, terrified settlers, a burning cabin, hardy woodsmen and other stage setting?

M. W. Milliron of Philadelphia writes us as follows: Dear Sir: During the course of his lecture at Temple University last Friday night, Mr. Don C. Seitz made mention of the "Norway Advertiser" and its past and present editors, giving it as a good example of the community newspaper.

"I am in my fourth year in journalism at Temple, and am especially interested in journalism in the smaller community, so would greatly appreciate your sending me a copy of the "Advertiser" that I might get an idea of what it is doing for the community.

"Some time ago I took great interest in reading of personal experiences written by C. A. Stephens for the "Youth's Companion" and also in book form. I have heard that his homestead, about which he writes, is at Norway Lake, Me. Perhaps you can enlighten me as to whether this place is at or near your town. I am in search of this information, as I have always desired to visit the scene of his writings"

A reminder of pre-Volstead days probably, was handed to us by Harry Russell, it being a catalogue of wine and liquors from a wholesale house in Boston. This literature was issued at the greatest freedom in those days. Many can recall the going prices per bottle plus express charges, with no fear of blindness or worse befalling. The pamphlet was a real curio and baffling Mr. Russell recently demolished.

Harry B. Virgin of Boston settles the controversial question of what became of the silver ball won from the Pennesseewassee club by the Eons of Portland in a recent championship baseball match. Mr. Virgin says James Hopkins, of South Portland and New York, who played on the Eons, has the ball now. The trophy was in 1907 and dropped out of sight after being on exhibition in the Portland store windows for months.

Harry Greenleaf showed us a page from an old paper which read: "The New England Courant, Monday, Feb. 4, to Monday, Feb. 11, 1732." It seemed like the original, but on the reverse side was "Fac-Simile of the first paper ever issued by Franklin and printed Sept. 17, 1876, on a press once used by him." But as that the paper is seventy-five years old. It was found in the Stuart house at South Paris, where Mr. Greenleaf was making repairs.

Changing time has befuddled more than one good man, we are told. Selectman Raymond H. Eastman entered Jackson & Holden's store one morning this week to inform Scott Pottle, who winds the town clock that the timepiece had stopped. It was 6:30 on the tower, but Mr. Eastman's watch and the store clock pointed to 7:30. After a lot of stringing the fact dawned on the victim that the difference between daylight and standard time has to be about it. The town clock didn't need winding.

Eugene B. Lone of Berlin, N. H., says: "To the Editor of the Norway Advertiser: I disagree with you in the Advertiser, where you say the story-tellers of fishing trips and camps that one needs at this time of year as much as a spring tonic. Not for me, and I thought that was one of the Advertiser's strong points, hope Gov. Lane has not left the state. Makes me think of a rhyme I read years ago. 'Where are the Pilgrims? Where the good old stock, where's the man who fears his God, in the mansion of the blest—I guess a few who chose to go out West.'" C. S.

I'll take a chance and squander another dollar and mind you those dollars are hard these times, so if you want to keep this subscriber get onto your job. For regards, hope you may get some fishing thrills, if we poor nuts have to stick to work."

The coming August, Bethel will have a fine opportunity to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Indian raid on the cabin of Lieut. Jonathan Clark and other settlers. This occurred on Aug. 3, 1781. One hundred years after in 1881 Bethel staged a blood curdling pageant on the common depicting the raid. Great liberty was taken with the story as handed down by historians, but it was a thriller for the times. The sports editor was a green country bumpkin nine years old and roosted for two hours on the sharp edge of the common fence, with the hot sun pouring down full force. The kid was absorbed in the mock scalping and can play unmindful of physical conditions. Why shouldn't Bethel re-act the story with wild Indians, terrified settlers, a burning cabin, hardy woodsmen and other stage setting?

M. W. Milliron of Philadelphia writes us as follows: Dear Sir: During the course of his lecture at Temple University last Friday night, Mr. Don G. Seitz made mention of the "Norway Advertiser" and its past and present editors, giving it as a good example of the community newspaper.

"I am in my fourth year in journalism at Temple, and am especially interested in journalism in the smaller community, so would greatly appreciate your sending me a copy of the "Advertiser" that I might get an idea of what it is doing for the community.

"Some time ago I took great interest in reading of personal experiences written by C. A. Stephens for the "Youth's Companion" and also in book form. I have heard that his homestead, about which he writes, is at Norway Lake, Me. Perhaps you can enlighten me as to whether this place is at or near your town. I am in search of this information, as I have always desired to visit the scene of his writings."

Thursday evening, Mrs. Bert Stone gave a bridge party at her home for Mr. and Mrs. John Saul of New York, who have been spending the winter at M. C. McAlister's, and who were going to their home in New York, Saturday. Several friends and neighbors were invited and a very enjoyable evening was passed. A delicious and dainty lunch was served by the hostess. Mrs. Saul and L. S. Briggs carried away the honors.

Mary Chandler has exchanged her car for a model A Ford roadster.

There will be a drama entitled "Square Crooks" May 5th, at Wiley's Hall, by players from Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woodard from West Fryeburg and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas from Albany, N. Y., were Sunday visitors at Emery Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Heald, who have spent the winter in Yonkers, New York, have returned to their home in the village.

PROPER FOOD NEEDED FOR CHILDREN'S TEETH

Friday is Child Health Day by order of the President of the United States, who in 1929 approved a joint resolution of Congress, which officially designated the first day of May as National Child Health Day. The health of the child is one of the nation's problems and the health of the child is very largely dependent on the food he eats.

One of the most alarming defects among school children, according to reports of the county health nurses in Maine, is the condition of their teeth. "The food we eat is more important for the development and repair of the teeth than a tooth brush or tooth paste," says Therese E. Wood, Extension foods specialist, University of Maine. "Our teeth like our bones," she continued "are very hard and require hard mineral elements to make them firm and strong." All during the growing period of the child, even before birth, teeth must have vitamins and mineral foods for their growth and development.

"The foods which give the most minerals for the teeth are milk, vegetables, fruits and whole grain cereals.

"Vitamin C is needed in tooth development. Not only during growth is this C vitamin essential, but decay in teeth may be stopped if this valuable substance is abundantly contained in the diet. The foods richest in vitamin C are the citrus fruits as oranges, grapefruit, lemons and other raw fruits and vegetables as well as canned tomatoes.

"The toddler should have milk, vegetables, fruits and whole grain cereals to form the main part of his meals each day. A quart of milk a day is best and never less than a pint; two vegetables each day, two servings of fruit, and some whole grain cereal. These are the foods which will not only build strong teeth and bones, but sturdy, well developed boys and girls.

"Children as well as grown folks should go to a dentist at least once each year to see that no cavities are developing; every six months would be better for many people. It is so important that baby's first teeth do not decay, as this affects the growth and development of the permanent teeth. By keeping the first teeth in good repair, they will remain in place until the permanent teeth appear. This helps to keep the teeth even.

"Every mother would like to see her child have straight white, pearly teeth. With careful cleaning night and morning, by eating the foods which contain minerals and vitamins, and by exercising the teeth, which means masticating coarse breads and other coarse food, good teeth will generally be the reward.

Tin darkens with use use, and this tarnish protects the tin; therefore tin utensils should not be scoured simply for the sake of making them bright. When food dries or burns on tin utensils it may be removed by heating a weak soda solution in the pan and then washing it thoroughly.

Always grease an iron with lard or vaseline before putting it away for a long time, or it will rust. To remove rust on an iron, scour it with scouring powder, and rub well with a flannel cloth.

ARBOR DAY

Friday, May 8, has been set by Governor Gardiner as Arbor Day for Maine.

The proclamation called attention to the economic value of trees to the state.

"Trees with their shade and shelter are the most lovely ornaments of our towns and countryside and our forests have been a dominant factor in the economic history of our State," it read.

"In their beauty and grandeur and in the exquisiteness of their detail our trees proclaim the power of a creative Deity whose all-embracing care gives renewed confidence in the Providence whose gifts are so lavish and bountiful.

"Therefore, to assist in perpetuating our forests, and to impress our youth with the beauty and sturdiness of nature, and in keeping with statutory requirement, I hereby proclaim Friday, May 8, Arbor day in the State of Maine."

The Spreader with the Beater on the Axle

THE JOHN DEERE SPREADER is the only one combining these advantages:

1. High Drive Wheels, combined with a low box—easier on both horses and the man.
2. A Spreader that can be properly loaded—flat on top—either from the sides or from the back.
3. A Beater that is near the ground-winds do not cause drifting of the manure.
4. An Extremely Simple Spreader—no clutches, no chains, only about half the parts required on old style spreaders.
5. The Main Working Parts are mounted on the rear axle where they can't get out of alignment—no countershafts.
6. Costs no more than Inferior Spreaders.

About two acres from the easterly part, being the homestead of Joseph Thurlow is reserved.

SINGING IN THE SPRING

Driving through the country these spring days, one catches the old-fashioned odor of burning brush, and hears the plowman "gee-hawing" and whistling as he turns up the soil. It has been said many times the last few years that there is no money in farming. And yet one sees the farmers hard at it, and working with old-fashioned good will.

Just the other day was heard a conversation that constituted a very fine presshment. Some of those talking were discouraged. The matter of property values and their uncertainty was being discussed. Said a bystander: "I know how you can restore and uphold the values of your homes. Continue to love them, to keep them repaired and homelike."

That sounds like good advice. We've been quite material in our thinking in recent years. We may have lost sight of old-fashioned sentiments. Maybe that bystander was right. Maybe it is our love for our homes and the community in which we live that makes real estate values.

In recent years the farmer has had a lot to contend with. But you can take a man's money away from him and he still has his own ingenuity and talents with which to go ahead. But take his heart interest out of him and there isn't much left. For that reason we believe it a good sign to hear the farmers whistling and see plows turning soil, some of which never before seeded. It seems quite convincing proof that men still are hoping and planning and dreaming their dreams.

Recently the farmer has had a lot of people telling him how hard up he is. He's heard everything from pity to censure, but he's still plowing. He may have lost a lot of profit in the last few years, but he still has his heart interest

"SQUARE CROOKS"

WATERFORD

Miss Winslow Given Shower—Spelling Contest—Dinner Guests at Mrs. Morgan's.

The Wilkins Community House was the scene of a very enjoyable gathering on Friday evening of last week, the occasion being a shower, arranged by the parents of the school children, for the teacher, Miss Bernice Winslow, of Gray. Everyone present was in the secret except Miss Winslow, who had had no inkling of the purpose of the so called "social" so that she was completely surprise when Mrs. Fillebrown at the piano played the wedding march and the two youngest children in school, Mary Hubbard and Bruce Donahue, entered, dressed in costumes of a bride and groom, the little bride carrying an arm bouquet of spring flowers.

The children were trailing a small cart, decorated in pink and white and piled high with packages wrapped in white paper and tied with pink and white ribbons. The little procession marched around the room, and stopping in front of Miss Winslow, handed her a card which announced that the "shower" was for her. Their duty done, the little bride and groom retreated in double quick time, amid a shower of applause. A quantity of packages were brought in later and presented, as there were more gifts than the little cart could carry. The gifts were lovely and of a wide variety of linens, china, silver, glass, a beautiful handmade braided rug, several pieces of Pyrex ware, towels, and a gift of money. A large cake, decorated in pink and white, was presented to Miss Winslow, who cut and distributed it among the young people, who made merry over finding the time-honored favors of ring, thimble, button, etc.

The committee served delicious ice cream and cake, among which was a "wedding ring" angel cake made by Mrs. Hubbard and Mrs. Morgan made a decorated cake. The cake presented to Miss Winslow was made and decorated by Mrs. Nellie Stone. Dancing was enjoyed, with music on the Victrola, and Henry Haynes, violin, accompanied by Miss Lillian Kimball on the piano, played several selections which were much enjoyed.

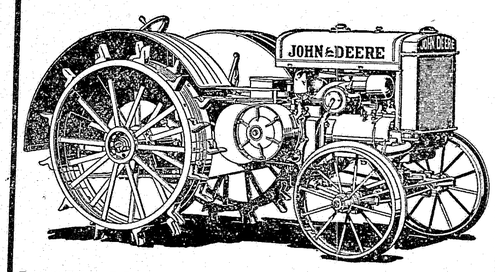
Isn't It Time You Had a JOHN DEERE TRACTOR?


Let Us Show You Why It's the Tractor Best Suited to Your Farm Needs
It's not a long step from horse-farming to power-farming with the John Deere. Farm boys hardly old enough to drive three horses operate this tractor. And it doesn't require a mechanic to keep it in good running order. You can do it yourself, right out on your farm.
The John Deere gives you everything you want in a tractor for your heavy farm jobs—adaptability, power, economy, light weight, simplicity, and accessibility. It supplies drawbar, belt, and power take-off service to reduce your labor costs, to do your work when it should be done, to give you more time for other duties or for recreation.
Investigate the John Deere fully. Ask any one you know who owns one. Come in and spend enough time with us to get to know this machine.

ODD FELLOWS ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in this part of Maine packed the Baptist Church auditorium and gallery, Sunday afternoon, when they observed the annual Odd Fellows' anniversary.

Rain caused much of the parade program to be abandoned but the line formed at the I. O. O. F. hall with the band, the Odd Fellows in regalia, Patriarchs Militant and Rebekahs making a long procession.

At the church there were selections by the Norway-Paris Band; a quartette selection by the church choir, Miss Marion Wheeler, Mrs. Harriette Dennison, C. A. Churchill and L. W. Titus; a trumpet solo by Clarence B. Huff and two hymns by the congregation. Mrs. Stella Burnham was the organist. According to estimates, the congregation numbered 700 or more.

The exercises were in charge of Theodore R. Frost of Norway, and introduced the speakers, Rev. E. B. Tetley offered prayer and Rev. R. H. Colby pronounced the benediction.

Judge Max Pinansky of Portland spoke along the lines of Odd Fellowship which he said in basis principles were the same as the church.

Henry F. Merrill widely known through the weekly broadcast of the Thirteen Class service on Sunday mornings, based his address on the subject "Hen and Hogs". He drew his lessons from the story in Mark's gospel about the evil spirits leaving the man and entering a herd of swine.

Both speakers held the attention of their auditors and impressed all with the message of fraternalism and loyalty to the church, the lodge and the community.

FIFTH ANNUAL CLERKS' BALL

A social event was the annual ball given by South Paris Clerks' Association, Friday evening, April 24. Music was furnished by St. John's Orchestra of Portland and fox trots predominated.

Attractive decorations were arranged under the direction of Elmore Edmunds and assistants. The colors were a deep blush pink and Nile green, beautifully contrasting colors. At the doors and window of a drawing room set on the stage, draperies were arranged, with a valance in the same colors at the top of the arch and along the front of the stage and around the refreshment booth.

Herbert Gibbs was floor manager and his aids were Elmore Edmunds, Raymond Russell, Bernard Jackson, Wade Hapgood, William Maxim, Andrew Eastman, Clifford Dumas.

Honary aids, Earl Farnham, Perley May, Charles Cummings, Harold Tufts of Norway, and Malcolm Briggs, West Paris.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall C. Weeks was observed at their home on High street, April 25. About thirty-five guests enjoyed the dinner, many of whom were present at the wedding twenty-five years ago.

Among the guests were Mrs. Weeks' mother, Mrs. Maria Huntley, Mrs. Jennie Porter and two sons, L. Marshall and Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Nahum H. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Legge and three sons, Carroll, Preston and Forest, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bennett and daughter, Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Corkum and four children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Worcester, Mr. and Mrs. Owen P. Benton, Everett Carr, Richard Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Winship, Mr. and Mrs. Asepher Porter, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. William Hathaway of South Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corkum of Keene, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lyons of Needham, Mass.

Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Kinney and son, William, returned Sunday night after attending the Maine Conference at Portland. Services in Deering Memorial church as usual next Sunday on daylight time.

A pageant at the Baptist church next Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock daylight time is entitled "Garments of Glory", and under the auspices of the Mission Circle.

At the Congregational church, Sunday evening, a "sing song service" will be enjoyed, led by an orchestra. The pastor will speak for fifteen minutes on "The Song of the Shirt". Meeting at 7:30 daylight time.

Daylight schedule is in force at the post office. The city carriers work on that time, but the R. F. D. carriers have to wait for the forenoon train that runs on standard.

Mrs. Robert S. Shaw and daughter, Roberta Louise, of Portland are spending the week with Mrs. Shaw's mother, Mrs. Sadie Silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Park occupied their camp at Shagg Pond over Sunday.

E. C. Butts and family of Cranston, R. I., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Butts over Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Earle Clifford, Mr and Mrs. Thomas Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Martin, Mr. and Mrs. G. Harold Abbott and Roland LaBay were guests at a supper followed by bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Davis, Locke Mills. Scott Martin won high score and Harold Abbott low score.

Miss Kathryn Greene has been visiting relatives in Portland, returning by auto with Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Greene, who were guests at E. L. Greene's, Sunday and Monday.

A May Breakfast will be served at the Congregational Church vestry, Friday morning, May 1st, from 6 to 8 o'clock a. m. This breakfast for the public.

A new metal book cabinet has been added to the equipment in the probate office at the county buildings. Office furniture has been changed somewhat to make room.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shaw, Margaret Shaw and Georgia Maxim attended the Passion Play at Lewiston, Saturday. Mrs. Lillian Shaw, who had been visiting with Mrs. Hattie Jackson, returned home with them.

Shaw's orchestra opens the Lock Mills pavilion Saturday night with a May ball and maybaskets given away.

Herbert Perkins went this week to Mananeook for a wood cutting job, probably through May.

South Paris went on a daylight schedule, Sunday, with the church services on standard. Beginning Sunday, May 3, daylight time will be in force in the churches and no chance for confusion as happened in a number of cases last Sunday morning. Business opened on time, Monday morning with unofficial clocks changed to correspond to the factory whistles. Schools opened one hour earlier than standard as the clock hands were not advanced. Mental arithmetic is necessary when the town clock strikes, for it is one hour behind the "going" time.

Mrs. Adda Conner, who has spent the winter with her nephew, S. C. Ordway, and family, went to Bethel, Sunday, to visit her grandson, Parker Conner and family.

TRI-COUNTY CELEBRATION

Plans are in the making for one of the largest 4th of July celebrations ever to be put on in South Paris, under the auspices of Mt. Mica Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., and A. S. Foster Post, No. 72, American Legion, both of South Paris, to be held at the Oxford County fair grounds between Norway and South Paris. Plans are not definitely made, but there will be a mammoth parade, fine ball games, the best of circuit horse racing sponsored by members of the fair association, midways with concessions of all descriptions and dancing. This will be an all day celebration, starting with parade in South Paris, going to Norway and ending at the fair grounds. The plans are to include Franklin, Androscoggin and Cumberland counties with Oxford county for one big Tri-County celebration.

The committees have a tentative program well in hand and are filling in the details rapidly as possible. A complete success requires the assistance of every loyal citizen in the community. Boosting the celebration from now on will put the thing across and make the eagle scream.

MRS. MARY H. CROCKETT

Mrs. Mary H. Crockett of South Paris died suddenly April 23, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leon S. Fairbanks, in Abington, Mass., where she had spent the winter. She had been in ordinary health, and rose at the usual time, but was stricken soon after.

Mrs. Crockett was born in Paris, where she had spent most of her life. She was the daughter of Elbridge and Julia Prentiss Forbes, and was born July 4, 1849. She married George B. Crockett, and they lived for a number of years at Paris Hill, and later in South Paris. Mr. Crockett was a partner in the business which later became the Paris Manufacturing Co. He died a number of years ago. For some years Mrs. Crockett has spent her winters, and sometimes more of the time with her daughters in Massachusetts.

She was a devoted member of the South Paris Baptist church, having joined in early life.

To Mr. and Mrs. Crockett were born six children, all of whom are living: Mabel, wife of C. A. Record of Abington, Mass.; Prentiss F., of South Paris; Ernest P. of South Paris; Lucelia, wife of Leon S. Fairbanks of Abington, Mass.; Leon E.; Miss Ethel C. Crockett, who teaches in Quincy, Mass. There are four grandchildren: Dr. Myles S. Record of Abington; Norman Crockett and Richard Crockett of South Paris; and Marjorie Fairbanks of Abington, Mass. Mrs. Crockett is survived by one sister, Mrs. Clara A. Bessey of Stoneham, Mass., and one brother, Arthur E. Forbes of South Paris.

The funeral was held at the South Paris Baptist church, Saturday afternoon, attended by Rev. E. B. Tetley. "Some Day the Silver Cord Will Break", which Mrs. Crockett had requested to have used, was sung by Mrs. Alton C. Wheeler of Auburn. Mrs. Crockett's class in Sunday school accompanied the relatives to the grave. The bearers were Wesley M. Hammond, Burton G. Hammond, J. E. Murch, H. W Dennison, Lester A West and C. A. Churchill. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Coming from out of town for the funeral were Mrs. C. A. Record, Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Fairbanks and daughter. Miss Marjorie of Abington, Mass, Miss Ethel C. Crockett, who teaches in Quincy, Mass., Richard Crockett, employed in South Acton, Mass., Mrs. C. A. Bessey and Miss Lenora Bessey of Stoneham, Mass., and Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Bessey of Waterville.

WOODBURY-STARBIRD

Chester Dean Woodbury of Brunswick and Miss Glenna Anona Starbird of South Paris were married at Yarmouth, April 17 by Rev. A. Francis Walch. The ceremony took place at the home of the officiating clergyman. They were accompanied by Miss Melva Littlefield and Arthur Potter. The bride wore a tan traveling suit.

Mrs. Woodbury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Starbird of South Paris. She is a graduate of South Paris high school, and of Nasson Institute. For a few years she was in charge of the domestic science department of Cornish high school, and during the present school year has held a similar position in Yarmouth high school.

Mr. Woodbury is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Woodbury of Brunswick. He is a graduate of Brunswick high schol, and has attended the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. He has a position in a drug store in Brunswick, in which town they will make their home. Mrs. Woodbury will complete the work of the school year at Yarmouth.

BRYANT-BENNETT

Lawrence Bryant of Bangor and Miss Geraldine Bennett of South Paris were married Saturday afternoon, April 25. at the home of the bride. Rev. R. H. Colby officiated, using the double ring service.

The bride wore white georgette crepe with tulle veil and orange blossoms and carried an arm bouquet of carnations. The matron of honor was Mrs. Gordon Field. Gordon Field was best man.

Mrs. Bryant is the daughter of Harley and the late Linnie Dean Bennett of South Paris. She is a graduate of South Paris high school and the Metropolitan Business College of Chicago, Ill., and has been employed in the office of the Mason Manufacturing Co. She is an attendant at the Methodist church.

Mr. Bryant is the son of Rev. Ordel E. and Mrs. Bryant of Clinton, N. C., formerly of South Paris He graduated from South Paris high school and the Maine School of Commerce, and has a position at Bangor with the Portland Rendering Co He is a member of the South Paris Universalist church.

They will reside in Bangor.

OFFICES BROKEN INTO

A cash register containing fifty cents was stolen from the Triangle Oil Co. office early Wednesday morning. It is believed the thieves used skeleton keys in making an entrance through the office door. The register was found near the river, badly smashed, and empty. The same morning, the office of A. W. Walker & Son was entered and the money draw looted. Only two cents was found there.

C. A. Austin has located here as auctioneer and appraiser, coming from Mechanic Falls, where he has been in business the past nine years under the firm name Austin & Boyer. His auction rooms are at the Paris Motor Mart on Skillings Avenue. Mr. Austin was for a long time a salesman, demonstrator and expert machinist with the International Harvester Co. and is well known in this territory.

Earl Clifford's residence on Pine street has been treated to fresh paint outside and improvements added inside.

Ted Nutting was home from the University of Maine several days and returned Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hayden are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Robert Anderson, at Wollaston, Mass.

Mrs. Lenwood Durepo of Montpelier, Vt., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Davis several days last week. She made the trip by automobile and found roads good.

FAIR PLAY

The underlying principle of a democratic government is that the people shall rule, and the one great thing wherein we citizens of the United States are justified in claiming superiority over those of the mightiest empires and kingdoms in the world, is because here the wish of the people is the governing factor.

This is the theory of a democratic government. How does it work out in practice? Take for instance that greatest nuisance of modern times, Daylight Saving, so called, prohibited by the Federal government, voted down by the citizens of the town of Norway, yet because of the selfishness, the aggressiveness, and craft of a small minority fostered and forced upon the unorganized and unresisting larger majority.

Is this fair play? Should not the citizens be allowed to decide for themselves? "A house divided against itself cannot stand" and a town partly on daylight, and partly on standard time is in a devil of a mess.

The majority should rule, and if it is the desire of the majority of the citizens of Norway to adopt daylight saving, the rest should concur, regardless of the inconvenience, and hardship imposed, and the financial loss entailed. But when the majority favor "standard time" and submit tamely to the imposition "daylight saving" gone is the spirit of justice and fair play, and violated our spirit of democracy. —Arthur H. Holman.

George H. Bennett, at the age of 77, doesn't mind leg action on the highway. Saturday, he walked from Norway to Mechanic Falls, ten miles away. He left town at 9 o'clock and reached his destination long before dinner was ready at 12 o'clock. The trip was made for a painting job at Ben Richardson's.

Reduced fare for return trips between stations on the Grand Trunk, has been announced beginning May 8, and extending to August 2. Tickets may be procured after Friday noon, and good to return until Monday, at midnight, between any station on the line in the states. Approximately the return fare is one-quarter more than one-way rate and is a considerable saving, even for short trips over the week end.

Two square-tail trout taken from Lake Pennesseewassee, Sunday, by Howard Maxim were on exhibit in the sporting goods window at Clark's Drug Store, Monday. The trout weighed two and one-half and three and one-half pounds and had the appearance of being well nourished. Edward A. Luck, the other fisherman in the boat, secured one that tipped the scales at two pounds. The prizes were taken by trolling with spinners.

Cement steps are going in at the high school gymnasium. A good job if grading is in progress along the front of the building and cement walk. The sum of $500 raised for that purpose at the town meeting is being expended by Supt. W. H. Edminster under the direction of the school board. Students and others are doing volunteer work and a truck was loaned free of expense. A good impression will be made with the small sum available.

The Record Hardware Co. of this town, which has been closed for some time because of bankruptcy proceedings, has been sold to the Trader's Syndicate of Brunswick, Me. Representatives of the Trader's Syndicate are in town arranging and sale tagging the stock, which is to be offered to the public at greatly reduced prices for a quick close out. In order to take care of the large crowd without delay, extra clerks will be on hand. Norah Harlow, Dorothy Stanley, Ronell Bicknell and Alton Bradford have been engaged to assist at the big sale.

In the interest of the various church organizations throughout Maine, to assist them in raising funds for various purposes, W. H. Lamb, representing the Household Dept. of the Summit Thread Co., the leading silk finished factory thread manufacturers in this country, has secured the co-operation of the larger part of the organizations in this section, and the quality of the thread that has been furnished has proved to be of the very highest quality. This has proven very gratifying in the interest of all parties concerned, and all seem very much pleased with the proposition.

R. C. Adams, Norway, was pleasantly surprised recently, when he received national recognition for sending a name for an accident picture which The Household Magazine, Topeka, Kansas, will use in advertising a new service for its readers which features low-cost travel accident insurance. Mr. Adams' suggestion, "With the First Drop of Gasoline, Buy Household Protection," was awarded $5. Entries in the prize offer were received from every state in the union. First prize, $400.00, was awarded to Mrs. S. G. Phillips, Route 5, Muskogee, Oklahoma, for the following suggestion: "Household Protective Service Takes the 'L' out of C(l)ash."
